Education

DOCTORAL STUDENT, POSTSECONDARY EDUCATION LEADERSHIP — 2009-DEC. 2012
Western Kentucky University — Bowling Green, KY

I am currently pursing coursework in educational leadership, with an emphasis in postsecondary education. My current research interests include: gifted and talented students, specialized school admissions, specialized secondary high schools, the role of social media, organizational communication through social media, and talent development.

M.A. ENGLISH—LITERATURE — 2004-06
Western Kentucky University — Bowling Green, KY

THESIS: TEMPERING STEEL: READDRESSING THE MYTHOS OF SUPERMAN

NAMED THE JOHN D. MINTON OUTSTANDING GRADUATE STUDENT FOR SIGNIFICANT CONTRIBUTIONS TO WKU

During my graduate study, I served as an assistant coach for the international and national champion WKU Forensic Team. I completed my degree with a GPA of 3.92. I also acted as the assistant to the Director of the Kentucky High School Speech League, helping to oversee the daily workings of the League as well as orchestrate and administer major tournaments. My responsibilities also included public outreach efforts through contacts with the statewide press and development of online resources for coaches.

B.A. ENGLISH & RELIGIOUS STUDIES — 2000-04
Western Kentucky University — Bowling Green, KY

As a freshman, I received the Presidential Scholarship–the highest scholarship awarded by WKU. I completed my undergraduate degree with a GPA of 3.86. As a student, I competed for the international and national championship WKU Forensic Team and was named a national champion in rhetorical criticism (TKA 2004). I also served as a member of the Student Government Association.

Professional Experience

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR, ADMISSIONS AND PUBLIC RELATIONS — 2007 - PRESENT
PLANNING COORDINATOR — 2006-07
The Gatton Academy of Mathematics and Science in Kentucky — Bowling Green, KY

I began work with the Carol Martin Gatton Academy of Mathematics and Science in Kentucky shortly after the program received a funding commitment from the Kentucky General Assembly in spring 2006. As one of three staff members during the year prior to the program's opening, I coordinated the planning process and served as a key voice in recruitment, curriculum development and establishment of partnerships with stakeholders throughout the Commonwealth. In my current role, I oversee all internal and external communications for the program, orchestrate the admissions and recruitment process and both develop and maintain our print, radio, television and web-based presence.

OWNER AND PUBLISHER 2003-PRESENT
SpeechGeek and SpeechGeek Market Bowling Green, KY

This entrepreneurial endeavor provides performance literature and coaching resources for high school speech and debate programs. Identifying a niche market, the company also currently offers clothing and other accessories. In 2008, SpeechGeek partnered with the National Forensic League to sponsor the National Journal Forensic League National Tournament. Currently, SpeechGeek partners with several outstanding former competitors to create Extemp Central (www.extemp.com), a free online blog and coaching resource for students competing in extemporaneous speaking. In 2010, SpeechGeek acquired DebateChamps. In 2011, the site was rebranded as SpeechGeek Market. The store serves as a third-party distributor of forensics educational resources featuring products from twenty different companies.

DIRECTOR OF RESIDENCE LIFE SUMMER 2006-09
RESIDENTIAL COUNSELOR SUMMER 2001, 2003-05
The Center for Gifted Studies, Western Kentucky University Bowling Green, KY

As a residential counselor for the nationally-recognized Summer Camp for Academically Talented Middle School Students (SCATS) and Summer Program for Verbally and Mathematically Precocious Youth (VAMPY), I had the pleasure of overseeing and counseling gifted students from around the country. As Director of Residence Life, I collaborated with and supervised a team of 21 undergraduate students who served as residential counselors. The current enrollment for VAMPY is over 200 students, including a strong international presence accounting for over 10% of the student population. Students attending the programs last summer came from twelve states and four countries.

ADJUNCT INSTRUCTOR FALL 2008
Honors College, Western Kentucky University Bowling Green, KY

Harnessing my passion for comic books and visual narratives, I proposed and taught an Honors colloquium titled Comics and Graphic Novels. Though many English professors at WKU have used this emerging genre of literature in their classes--several upon my recommendation--a dedicated course on the topic had not been offered. This interdisciplinary course blended literature, composition, visual rhetoric, and hands-on production to introduce students to the merits of this form of popular narrative through superhero, memoir, journalistic and other texts.

ADJUNCT INSTRUCTOR FALL 2006
English Department, Western Kentucky University Bowling Green, KY

Though my graduate assistantship provided me the ability to teach students in intimate, lab-based learning environment, I also desired to expand my experiences with traditional classroom instruction. During the Fall 2006 semester, I taught Introduction to College Writing (ENG 100) and Writing in the Disciplines (ENG 300). In both courses, I strayed from using traditional classroom readers in order to model classroom assignment on contemporary, real-world writings.

CAMP INSTRUCTOR SUMMER 2000-04
WKU Summer Forensic Institute Bowling Green, KY

As a lab instructor, I was responsible for leading a group of ten students through the competitive forensic process. By developing a curriculum and implementing techniques used in college forensics, several of my students advanced to elimination rounds at major tournaments.
